[Engineering Center Name]

Requirements and Acceptance Worksheet

ENG-FORM-03 – Template v0.1-draft

Purpose of This Document

This worksheet writes down the specific, numbered requirements this work needs to satisfy, and how the center and the requester will know each one has been met. Its purpose is to replace vague expectations with requirements that are specific enough to design, build, and check against. It is developed jointly by the requesting technical lead and the center engineering lead, usually alongside the Scope Definition Worksheet (Document 4). Marking a requirement Mandatory versus Preferred helps everyone agree on what is truly required versus what is merely desired.

How to Use This Worksheet

List each distinct, checkable requirement as its own entry below. Use Mandatory for requirements that must be met and Preferred for requirements that are merely desired. Acceptance criteria should be specific enough that two different people would agree whether the requirement was met. If a requirement is not yet resolved, say so in the Assumptions and Open Questions section rather than guessing.
